DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the “plurality of apertures” must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as “amended.” If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either “Replacement Sheet” or “New Sheet” pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a) because they fail to show the plurality of apertures as described in the specification. Any structural detail that is essential for a proper understanding of the disclosed invention should be shown in the drawing. MPEP § 608.02(d). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claims 7-12 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate of claims 1-6. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 5, 7-9, 11 and 13-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Brenner (U.S. Pat. # 5,944,029).

With regard to claims 1 and 7, Brenner discloses a hair roller (figs. 5-12) comprising a flexible member (22) having a first position (fig. 6) and a second position (fig. 8), wherein when the flexible member is urged from the first position, the flexible member curls upon itself into the second position (abstract, lines 1-6), a fibrous material (32) bordering the flexible material and a plurality of hook type fasteners (36) attached to one side of the fibrous material and wherein the fibrous material being between the flexible member and the hook type fasteners (see fig. 5). In regard to claim 13, Brenner discloses a hair roller (figs. 5-12) comprising a flexible member (22) having a first position (fig. 6) and a second position (fig. 8), wherein when the flexible member is urged from the first position, the flexible member curls upon itself into the second position (abstract, lines 1-6), a plurality of hook type fasteners (36) attached to the flexible member (see fig. 5). In regard to claims 2, 8, 14, the flexible member being made of metal (col. 3, lines 12, 13). In regard to claims 3, 9 and 15, the flexible member being made of plastic (col. 3, lines 17, 18). In regard to claims 5, 11 and 16, the hook fasteners being made of plastic (col. 3, lines 58, 59; it is known that Velcro is being made of plastic).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4, 6, 10, 12 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brenner in view of Belmonte et al (U.S. Pat. # 6,041,791).

With regard to claims 4, 6, 10, 12 and 17, Brenner discloses the essential claimed invention as discussed above in claims 1, 7 and 13 except for the flexible member having a plurality of apertures and the material of the fibrous member being made of cotton. Belmonte et al discloses a hair curler (figs. 4, 5) comprising a flexible member (50), a plurality of hook type fasteners (42) attached to the flexible member, wherein the flexible member having a plurality of apertures (see fig. 5). It would have been obvious to one having an ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ the plurality of apertures as taught by Belmonte et al into the flexible member of Brenner in order to permit air flow there through and to facilitate the ready drying of the strands of hair. And it would have been obvious to one having an ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ the material of the fibrous member being made of cotton, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Gonzalez is cited to show the state of the art with respect to a hair curler.
